

SPENDING & DEFENDING: A Look Back at the DoD Budget 10 Years After September 11th

Over the past 10 years since the Sept. 11th attacks, government spending for the Department of Defense has been a heavily debated and divisive issue. As the Joint Committee on Deficit Reduction begins to take shape and Congressional Leaders negotiate Fiscal Year 2012 Appropriations, Public Notice hosts a panel with thought leaders from both sides of the aisle to highlight meaningful reforms to the largest category of discretionary spending - the Defense Budget.
